JAS. L. CASE REELECTED PRESIDENT

Starts Sixth Year as Head of Y. M. C. A.—Annual Meeting Held Friday Night—Reports of Various Departments.

The various classes have enjoyed the exercises and games which were arranged with the one idea of building up the body in symmetrical proportions, and not a few have received great benefit by regularly attending the class sessions.

The Junior class has been large and enthusiastic, and while a goodly number of adults have attended, we hope that an increasing number of men will avail themselves of this privilege which means so much to the development and maintenance of a healthy body.

Educational.

It is a pleasure to report the best educational work in very many years. Twenty-four men were enrolled in our class in architectural drawing, and eight were registered in the citizenship class. Splendid results were noted and the students have shown real appreciation of the association's efforts to help them.

The instructors, Mr. A. M. Thompson and L. M. Cranford deserve and have our most hearty commendation for their faithful work.

In addition to the classes, the educational committee arranged an unusually fine Star Course of five numbers, and they have supplied the readers with a good variety of magazines and newspapers.

Boys.

Many years ago the leaders of the association recognized the great need of work for boys, and because impressed with the truth of the well known maxim that "prevention is better than cure" the boys' work was inaugurated and it has grown steadily since that time.

Our work has been prosecuted with faithfulness, and in no one year have the results been more satisfactory than during the year just closed. The boys have apparently relished the Bible study fully as much as the gymnasium classes, both of which have been well patronized by them. We must in every way, if possible, hold the boys for in a real sense they are the hope and future of the association.

Foreign Work.

This is the day of large vision, and we are glad that last fall our association, through the kindness of its friends, was able to reach to the distant city of Pootung, our own secretary, Mr. W. C. Clark, supported by the association, to see the men and boys of that important field. This is indeed a forward step for the association.

Our Auxiliary.

In this day and time when the spirit of service is in the air, we are delighted to see such actual demonstration of "do as you would be done by" as have been shown on the part of our women of our loyal auxiliary who, on so many occasions have given us such a helpful ministry, and the history of this department of our work has been greater enthusiasm and service of Mrs. Pollock, who for several years has been the auxiliary, and who has recently removed from the city.

Our Great Loss.

Since August 1st, 1915, we have keenly felt the loss of our friend and brother, Mr. Waterman R. Burnham, who passed to his reward on Aug. 17, 1915.

Mr. Burnham was the first president of the Norwich association and no institution ever had a more worthy official or a more loyal friend, who will continue to miss his bodily presence but we do now, and will for years to come, miss his influence of his loyal and royal character.

Our Volunteer Workers.

To those of us who are the employed officials, there comes no greater incentive than the example shown by the men who, with untiring devotion serve the association our president, who for five long years has been conducting the association in a most efficient and successful manner, and the results of the years work of which we are somewhat proud. The community owes to these men a debt of gratitude.

We are glad to express thanks to the men who have been so indispensable to our work, and through their efforts the association has been able to conduct the business end of the work in a business way.

To the ministers of the city and vicinity we express our gratitude for their practical help rendered with a willing spirit.

To the management and reporters of the city newspapers, we express our hearty thanks for the uniform kindness and courtesy shown throughout the year.

To every individual who has in any way assisted, financially or otherwise, we extend our thanks for their timely assistance.

Another year has passed into history, and there it must remain unaltered by the coming year; we wish with a great extent, made possible the same as last year. The door of the new year is opening, and there is no question about our opportunities; the only question is, will we measure up to them?

There were also reports from the various departments, including the religious department, the business department, educational, social, physical and benevolent departments.

The report of the physical department submitted by Physical Director O. H. Nickerson was as follows:

The gymnasium season opened October 1st, with the classes fairly well attended and as the weather grew colder more members attended regular classes. A special class for ministers was tried this year but was not very successful. The Senior and Junior classes have been larger this year, 28 for the largest senior class and 52 for the largest junior class, the other classes being about the same as last year. The Senior Pyramid squad gave a fine exhibition for the Ladies' Auxiliary at the State at St. Albans.

There were 225 class receptions held during the year, with an attendance of about 5000 and also 600 using the gymnasium outside of the regular class sessions. Seven thousand to eight thousand baths were taken during the year.

A grammar-school baseball league was conducted for the schools of the city. Four dual meets were held, two with New London and one with Norwich Free Academy against our juniors. Six physical tests were given, three for seniors and three for juniors. About twenty juniors passed their tests and about eight seniors. Three blue ribbon meets were held and were well contested. Christmas socials were held for the senior and junior classes. The volleyball championship game between the seniors and business men was won by the seniors. The five mile road race for seniors and two mile race for juniors attracted quite a little notice, a large number turning out to see both. They will be held again this year on the morning of May 30th.

The basketball team which represented the association this year did fine work, winning seven games out of ten. One benefit game was played for one of the sick members. The money from this game added to some donated by members of the Senior class made a total of a little over $10 which was presented to our sick classmate by Mr. Nickerson and Mr. Roessler. The final exhibition was given April 14th and 15th in which all classes took part, demonstrating the work of the physical department during the year. The exhibition was a great success although the game receipts were small.

The Election of Officers.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, James L. Case; vice presidents, James C. Macpherson, George H. Loring, Amos A. Browning, B. P. Bishop; recording secretary, A. E. Cherry; treasurer, Lewis R. Church. Trustees for three years: R. H. Gray, H. B. Cary, S. E. Palmer, A. L. Brown.

The executive officers of the association are: General secretary, Edwin Hill; boys' work director, J. H. Ely; physical director, O. H. Nickerson; office secretary, B. M. Bruce.

NORTH STONINGTON DIVIDED INTO HOSTILE CAMPS.

Arrest of Members of Main Family Has Stirred Up Feeling in the Community.

North Stonington is divided against itself as a result of the arrest recently of Leonard R. Main, the postmaster, and other members of his family, on the charge of breach of the peace, in assaulting William Edwards and Calvin O. Geer. Bitter feeling has been engendered by the arrests and the outcome of a hearing Monday morning is being awaited with great interest.

The arrests are caused by a controversy over property lines. Some time ago members of the Main family purchased a house and lot in the village.

MADAM H. SCHWARTZ

"THE STORE OF GOOD VALUES"
10 Main Street Telephone 1345-4. Breed Building

When Brown was owner of the property he built a piazza on the house, which it is claimed brought the house to the property line. When the Mains bought the place they claimed several feet beyond the piazza, which would extend the property line out into the street. The Mains then attempted to wall in the property, and when people walked on the sidewalk they were made the targets of potatoes and other objects, alleged to have been thrown by the Mains. It is claimed that the Mains even went so far as to point guns at anyone who attempted to use the sidewalk which they claim is their property.

Edwards and Geer are two of the persons who used the sidewalk and who were assaulted, it is claimed. Edwards and Geer complained to the authorities and Grand Juror Edgar W. Chapman issued warrants for the arrest of Postmaster Main, who runs a general store; his father, Leonard Main, who assists him; his brother, Floyd Main, who is a rural mail carrier, and his mother, Mrs. Annie Main. The warrants were served and the Mains placed under arrest.

Immediately there developed a strong sentiment either for or against the Mains. Everybody took sides either one way or the other, and the place is now divided into factions, which do not hesitate to show their feeling in more ways than one. Neither side has resorted to violence as yet, but feeling is so intense that there is no telling when it may develop.

The hearing against the Mains is scheduled for 10 o'clock Monday morning in the town hall, and it is expected that the whole community will be on hand. The hearing will be before Justice of the Peace Thomas E. Troland of New London.

Seventeen Year Old Italian Was Carrying Six Inch Knife.

The first arrest in connection with the strike of 1,000 laborers in New London, which has been in progress since Monday, occurred Friday morning when Patrolman James D. There was a vicious looking knife with a blade six inches in length. Mayor Rogers was at once notified of the arrest and he immediately dispatched a message to the strikers' headquarters in the Dart building, stating that instances of carrying concealed weapons would be carefully watched for and would be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. The arrested man's name was not obtainable, as he spoke no English.

The deadlock in the strike continued unbroken Friday, with no prospect of a settlement in sight. The contractors assert they will not give in and on the other hand the strikers smoke their long black cigars, shrug their shoulders and render the Italian version of "ich khabee". Certainly not all outward appearances they are not worrying in the slightest.
